

Mr. Baylis, my son, & my mother
Taken in the drawing room

A Highland Family

WHAT'S IT ABOUT?

This photograph was taken at the turn of the 19th and 20th century. The photograph was taken at Balmacaan House, Highland, and has an inscription that reads "Mrs Baylies, my son and my mother. Taken in the drawing room".

The photograph is part of an amateur album of snapshots, titled 'Balmacaan'. On the 2nd page of the album the inscription reads 'These photographs were all taken with my little Kodak. Cornelia Craven'.

Source: The Royal Commission on the Ancient and Historical Monuments of Scotland Ref: SC860648